

INTRODUCING THE COMMBOX ROADCASE

A REVOLUTIONARY, PORTABLE
INTERACTIVE SOLUTION FOR THE MINING INDUSTRY

Collaborate. Annotate. Meet. Manage.

With a full suite of collaboration tools, the CommBox roadcase can be rolled into any room or site and is ready for action. Including a built-in digital whiteboard, Teams and Zoom integrations and powerful audio, the CommBox roadcase is the perfect bridge between field, remote and office workers.

Featuring a portable, completely self-contained 65" touchscreen from Aussie designer and manufacturer CommBox, simplify your meeting room setup and enjoy productive meetings that facilitate engaging collaboration. Take the unit on the road and transform anywhere into your meeting space. With anti-glare technology the CommBox can be used without compromising functionality both inside and outside. All you need is power. Perfect for onsite and offsite interactive training.

Pair your CommBox Roadcase with RealWear assisted reality wearables and experience seamless video conferencing. See what field operators are seeing and hearing on a high-quality, crystal-clear screen and interact in realtime.

With the CommBox roadcase you can run large scale training in or out of the office, whilst streaming field workers completing the tasks onsite. Technicians can provide training whilst still conducting productive work, answer questions and even record the interaction for future training.

CommBox touchscreens are incredibly intuitive with toughened, treated glass for a smoother touch experience. Annotate over project plans, documents and Maps and share back content immediately to onsite workers through their RealWear displays. Support your onsite workers by accessing files on your CommBox, such as manuals or videos. Search using the built-in browser for answers and resources and provide it to your field workers where ever they are. The CommBox roadcase empowers fieldworkers to connect with one person, or an entire room full of people.
